St. Pius X High School, Festus, Mo.

People are social beings, made to the image and likeness of God. We need each other as friends, brothers, co-workers in this movement for a peace-filled world.

It is only together—as one—that we will come to achieve the values for which we have a common hope—love, peace, justice, brotherhood, equality and truth.

We must acknowledge our need for one another, striving to realize that only in this way are we truly human. There may be many ways to achieve this realization—

"But first, be a person who needs people.
People who need people are the luckiest people in the world."
